Captain's Corner

Olla Amigos. Only a few weeks left until the Range War, boy where does the time go. A lot of work goes into putting on an event like this and we are lucky to have such a great group of members who get involved. We have done all the planning and have everything set and ready to go. It is now time for the members to step forward and help put their State Championship together. We need volunteers to help in all of the following areas: setup on Wednesday and Thursday (August 28/29), assist with side matches on Friday (August 30), Stage Marshals or Posse Leaders for the main match (August 31/September 1), and tear-down on Monday afternoon and Tuesday (September 2/3). Please give whatever time you can whether it's a whole day or just a few hours. It will be greatly appreciated.

We are also looking for a few more Stage Sponsors. The cost is $100 per stage for which you receive a sign at the stage location and recognition in the shooters booklet. If you are interested, please contact Lavender Lou. Not only is this a good way to advertise but it also helps us keep the cost of the shoot down.

Just a reminder to the folks that may have to work on Friday or Monday that the actual shooting match is only 2 days, Saturday and Sunday with the awards banquet on Sunday evening. The side matches, Man-on-Man, and team event are just gravy.

Even if you do not sign up to shoot at the WRRW, do yourself a favor and come out and enjoy the vendors row. There will be many vendors selling everything from clothing and leather goods to bullets and firearms. Some have come from as far away as Texas and California to be with us, so come on out and join in the festivities.

Best Regards,
Chili Pepper Pete

Ramblings from the Bunkhouse

Preparations for Range War are well underway and we are looking forward to seeing everyone. As of July 29 we have 126 shooters signed up. Check the website for a list of those shooters. If you have any questions or want to make changes to your shooting category, please just call or email and we will be glad to make the adjustment.

Some shooters have requested a long wish list of folks to shoot with on their posse. We'll do our best, but cannot guarantee you will be with all the pards.

Good shooting,
Mackinaw Kid and Lavender Lou

Rangers Invade Kentucky

The 2002 Kentucky State Championship was held in the awe inspiring Smokey Mountains just southwest of McGee, in a place called Hooten Holler. Hooten, in this cowboy's eyes, might well be the most realistic cowboy action setting in the world. The Hooten Old Town looks like you have stepped into the great American west somewhere in the late 1800's. The authentic looking western town comes complete with a saloon, general store, its own church, a gunsmith, and a version of Judge Roy Bean's law office. The friendly people there always seemed happy to show a Yankee around and to tell us all about their wonderful little piece of CAS heaven.

The Wolverine Rangers were well represented at Hooten. The infamous Baldy Bill and his gang of outlaws were there. As were Lucky Lennie, Fast Eddie and Cactus Kay. Wolverine Wrangler and the deadly Kid Alfred joined Doc Roy L Pain and Miss Misery because not a one of them would dream of missing the fun. The meanest brothers north of the Ohio River, Mike Fink, Moe Gunns and Fargo.... I mean Faygo Kid all showed up when they heard there was no deposit on soda in Kentucky. And as for No Buk Chuck and myself, well, we hitched up the team, got Granny loaded, and with the help of Elsie Rose made it to the shoot in near record time. There were some other noteworthy Michigan shooters on hand in Hooten to be sure. Seven and his wife Wildcat Elly, the men's and women's Michigan State Champions, heck, they both were there. The outlaw shootist Fireball and his ever dangerous better half Shotgun Mary were also seen dodging the Hooten law dogs.

The shoot officially began on Friday at high noon. Well, the side matches anyway. There were plenty of the usual side match events to be had that day. There was the popular derringer and pocket pistol side matches, not to mention speed shotgun, pistol and rifle. Cowboy trap. Now this should be a mainstay at side matches everywhere! What a blast to heat up your scattergun at flying targets! And a charity side event held by Sundown Jones that let competitors shoot it out at a very large gong using his almost famous 18 inch barreled "hog legs", with all the proceeds from this fun event going to charity. One side match regular that was not included this year was any long distance shooting events. The lack of Sharp's fodder and long distance gong ringing didn't seem to discourage many of the nearly 200 competitors that I talked to that weekend.

The main match was carried out with a Clint Eastwood movie theme. Each stage used a different scene from many of Clint's most famous movies including Unforgiven, Hang 'em High and the Outlaw Josey Wales. Each stage was run by one or more Stage Drivers. Their job was to explain the in's and out's of each scenario to each visiting posse and to make certain that each posse was held to the same standards as the next. This ensured that the spirit of the game was adhered to throughout each scenario by each competitor across the board. This was the first time I had been exposed to this idea, and I must say, I liked it very much as did every competitor I spoke to about it.

The first six stages were completed on Saturday and the final four stages on Sunday. The high humidity and temperatures well into the 90's made keeping hydrated and finding shade a high priority every day of the shoot. But the weather aside, this was a fine shoot that was well managed and very well thought out. Each stage was straight forward and easy to understand. The props were very good, and the artwork and woodwork were tremendous. There was a lot of walking to do between some of the stages, and in the heat that seemed a little tough at times. All-in-all though, I would go back and do it all again anytime...well, if it were a bit closer anyway. After the shooting was over the awards were given out. Door prizes and such had many a cowpoke hoping to hear his/her name called. Sundown and his helpers Marty Robbins and our very own No Buk Chuck helped give away a bunch of other prizes in a raffle held for charity on Sunday afternoon. But make no mistake, we really were all just waiting to hear how we did overall in the Kentucky State Championship. Now I would like to take a moment to mention that on the strength of a very good second day, I was able to beat out Lucky Lennie in the overall rank scoring! And that scoundrel still owes me a signed dollar for LOSING, and I hope that this shames him into paying up!

That being said, I would like to congratulate Colt McCallister for being the overall match winner! In lieu of the fact that he is not from the state of Kentucky he cannot be their state champion, but he did win the whole danged shootin' match so to speak. Other notable winners from Michigan were as follows: Mike Fink 3rd place frontiersman, Miss Misery 2nd place women's duelist, Wildcat Elly 3rd place women's traditional, Cactus Kay 3rd place women's modern, Doc Roy L Pain 1st place duelist, Fast Eddie 1st place senior duelist, Seven 1st place 49er and he was also 3rd place overall. Congratulations to everyone that participated and made the long trip to Hooten and I hope to see all you fellow Rangers at a shoot sometime soon!

Thunder in the Timbers

Ahhh, May in Michigan. Sunshine, warmth, flowers, NOT! How about clouds, rain, mud, sleet, and borderline freezing temperatures. Now that's the May I know in Michigan. Along with eighty other shooters, Miss Misery and myself braved the elements for one of our favorite shoots of the year.

Thunder in the Timbers is put on by the River Bend Regulators every May. Let me tell you they can show you how a handful of cowfolks can really accomplish a lot. The River Bend Regulators are headed up by Jonathan Slim Chance and under his guidance they run a smooth shoot.

Located just outside Buchanan in southwest Michigan near the Indiana border, this shoot brings cowboys and cowgirls from both Michigan and Indiana for three days of fun and action. There's camping available with electric on the grounds and motels near the freeways. The RBR hosts the normal array of side events along with long range shoots on Friday. Friday night is an informal dinner with interesting things to do afterwards. This year we were treated to tomahawk and knife throwing demonstrations, and could try it ourselves afterwards.... (it's a lot harder than it looks.)

Saturday starts the main match with six stages of fun and skill. How many shooters have started out a stage in a bonnet and apron while holding a baby in a rocking chair? Sounds like a Kodak moment to me!

Saturday night was the banquet complete with pig roast and grilled chicken dinners along with all the complimentary side dishes to go with it. (Did I mention that they constantly feed you during the shoot? Donuts, cookies, sloppy joes, chips, coffee, pop.... the list goes on.) After dinner and dessert, we were privileged to listen to a cowboy band featuring Emily, the prettiest twelve year old fiddle player this side of the Pecos. The Kutzner Family Band with Demont Crispins leading the way played several classic cowboy tunes for our enjoyment. One other thing that makes this shoot unique is all events including dinners are held on club grounds. This makes it truly nice for the people camping.

On Sunday morning the main match concluded with the last four stages. The team events are held while main match scores are being tabulated. Awards are presented immediately after the conclusion of the team events followed by the Top Ten Shoot-Off to determine the overall match winner. This year's winner was One Eyed Rider.

An award that was started this year was the "Spirit of the Game Award", presented to the shooter who best conveyed the true spirit of cowboy action shooting, was won by our own Chili Pepper Pete.

By late afternoon campers were folded up and we were all headed home. Everyone had a great time and were looking forward to next year. Be sure to mark your calendar and join us in May 2003 at Thunder in the Timbers. You'll be glad you did.

Great Lakes Match #5--June 29 & 30, 2002

Saturday, June 29 dawned clear and HOT for the 32 shooters who had gathered at the LCSC range for Great Lakes Match #5. Range Master Ricochet Bill #6504 said, "let's get this critter runnin!", and the three posses headed down the trail. The stages were situated in back of the clubhouse where use of the newly acquired tent shelter (donated by the Wolverine Rangers) was put to use. The first five stages were completed by approximately 2:00pm leaving plenty of time for the side matches to be completed before the 6:00pm dinner.

The side match results were as follows:

Derringer - Two Bit Charlie #31323; Pocket Pistol - Two Bit Charlie #31323; Long Range Pistol - Doc Hopalong Foot; 22 Rifle - Bushy Mills #16686; 22 Pistol - Shootin Old Coot #26129; Single Shot Rifle - Jed #9030; Lever Action Rifle - Jed #9030; Lever Action Pistol Caliber Rifle - Ridge Runner Slim #24879

Saturday's dinner was a pig roast prepared by Tenderfoot Tess #6774 and our able kitchen staff of Randy & Tammy. This was quite a change from our traditional steak dinner and was well received by all. After dinner Walt, a local cowboy singer, entertained while the costume judging was being completed.

Costume contest winners were as follows:

Best Dressed Cowboy - Just Plain John; Best Dressed Cowgirl - Ally Kat #19690; Best Dressed Townie Man - Ridge Runner Slim #24879; Best Dressed Townie Woman - Bea Sweet; Best Dressed Jr. Cowgirl - Keel Over; Best Dressed Jr. Cowboy - Curly O

Sunday, June 30, also dawned clear and hot, but the final five stages were on the rifle range and in the woods which offered some relief. While scores were being checked and printed a round of Annie Oakley trap was enjoyed by all. Tucco Cockroach emerged as the winner. For a guy who says he hates shotgun, he sure busted those clays in a timely manner!

The final match results were as follows:

Overall Match Winner - EZ Money Ron #33322
 Traditional Winner - AJ Peacock #42047
 Senior - One Son of a Gun #20042
 Duelist - Onyx #35964
 Modern - Payton
 Jr. - Ally Kat #19690
 Women - Bea Sweet
 Black Powder - Bushy Mills #16686

Special thanks should be given to:

Jim & Donna Teets, Randy & Tammy, our kitchen help, for a job well done, Stan Kloc, Bill & Phyllis Felice, Tony Felice, Tom & Jennifer Maxwell and sons Eric & Anthony, Jim Malcolm, Fred Schmidt, Ron Bailey, John Naren, John Loudermilk, Mike Burton, Phil Huber, and two soon-to-be members Andy Serocki & John Schmidt

Also special thanks to our sponsors:

Rockford Regulators

Planning for the July 4th weekend was a mystery. Not having any history we just didn't know what to plan. As always - the cowboy way - we charged in headfirst and acted "cool". In addition, we looked good doing it too, I might add.

The cowboy "ladies" in the kitchen came up with the idea to fix salads at home and after they counted heads would go to the store and buy the needed items to make ham and turkey sandwiches. I have to tell you, what a hit their idea was!

For the rest of us, we sat up new targets made by Dave Betz at Shade Tree Mfg. to the scenario No Cattle, aka Mike Green provided. Those 60 shooters shot fast and hard. We were at the clubhouse by 1:30-2:00 o'clock. Best time we have ever had. This may have been due to the four posses instead of three we normally run.

Come October we are putting on a Cowboy Banquet. This will consist of pre-registration, special shooting scenarios, year-end trophies, a fabulous lunch, and a fun time to commemorate our first year. Our registration form is on the Wolverine Rangers website for filling out and mailing.

Results:

Thanks for giving us a great shoot! Your pards at the Double "R"

Thanks to everyone who attended our Pig-Out-of-Luck and our shoot on Sunday, July 21. The pig roast was a huge success with over 100 people in attendance. Rebecca, the pig willing (???), placed herself up for the sacrifice so everyone could enjoy her. Reflecting back on that day, I think it was the guys who were carving her that enjoyed her the most. They most willingly continued to carve even though it meant slightly burnt fingers. If there was a lull in the conversation, you could bet it was because they all had a mouth full of pork.

A special thanks to all the people who helped at our Pig-Out-of-Luck. Because of all of you it was another successful year.

Sunday's match had 71 shooters in attendance. Most shooters finished three scenarios with a few finishing four before the thunderstorms arrived and we had to call it a day for safety reasons. Thanks to everyone for being so understanding.

MUCC was filming at our shoot on Sunday, so watch for Michigan Outdoors on August 1st or 8th on your local PBS station. You may see someone you know or if you were there you may see yourself.

Hi y'all. I hope y'all are enjoying your summer as much as I am. We just ended our 8th season of CAS. We had our first cowboy shoot here at Westworld back in May of 1995. I must say, it takes some imagination to keep putting on shoots after eight years and still come up with new and exciting scenarios and targets. How about the "hole in the wall" or those "chicken eggs"? Bordertown Hombre is always brewing up something new for the next match. We're lucky to have the individual bays so we can have more movement and be able to use those moving targets that everyone loves so much, EH!

Well, we just wanted to thank everyone who supported us this year and a special thanks to all those who helped set-up and take-down. Those of you who do it know how much work is involved.

Now it's time to get the grounds ready for the Range War. If you don't attend at least Saturday and Sunday of the Range War, you don't know what you're missing. And don't let anybody tell you they've ever been to a better awards banquet than the one at Range War either. Don't take my word for it. Come on out and see for yourself. That's it for now. We'll see ya soon!

Our Memorial Day shoot in May set a record for us. Seventy-six shooters is a heck of a way to open a season. Congratulations to Faygo Kid for winning it all with Led Foulin' second, Fireball third, Lucky Lennie fourth, and R.J. Law fifth. The weather was hot, as usual for this summer, but tolerable.

We thought the May shoot was hot. Well, our June shoot was beyond hot. We put up three canopies to try and provide some relief from the heat. The fifty-seven shooters that showed up that day were "died in the wool" shooters. We thought it might be "the last one standing wins". As it turned out Fireball was first, Lucky Lennie second, Led Foulin' third, Catlow fourth, and EZ Munny Ron fifth.

Our third and final shoot was held on July 28. There were thunderstorms and rain during the evening before, but they were gone by the morning with only gray skies, heat and humidity persisting. With only five stages being shot the match ended by early afternoon as dark threatening clouds rolled in but never materialized into rain. A total of 50 shooters participated with Seven taking first place, Doc Roy L Pain second, Faygo Kid third, Led Foulin' fourth, and Moe Gunns fifth.

A big thanks to all who shot with us and to all of those who volunteered their time to help put on the three shoots. We will now concentrate our efforts on the Wolverine Rangers Range War coming up over Labor Day weekend in Port Huron. Look forward to seeing you there!

- Looks to me that our Lilly is quite the shootist! Congratulations!

After the strain of the day on Saturday, Gary Savoie of Rudyard provided his expertise and grilled a hog stuffed with sausage and sauerkraut. It is obvious his culinary skills are superb! That was the best eatin' we've had in a long time.

We had told everyone they had to sing for their supper or enter a cow-calling contest, but were saved by three wonderful men from Cedarville who agreed to play old-fashioned blue grass for us. They were great, and for that, we resoundingly

Wolverine Rangers Club News & Noteworthy News

thank Fred Gregg!

A lot of work went into putting on this two-day event. Fred and Leo cleared spaces for camping in the woods and made numerous props. Anne, tireless as always, created ideas for stages and collected props for them. She also made sure everyone was taken care of on both days, and other members of the gun club made good use of their time every Wednesday evening to help get things going.

An honorable mention has to be made for Old Sy. The story goes that Sy was relieved of hay baling duty on account of he can't count. Fred took pity on Sy and allowed him to bush hog the entire area with the club's tractor, which he did admirably! Sy's wife, Christine, prophesied that another day and we would have been able to see the Canadian bridge. We'll never know, the tire blew! Providence?

Being it was the first two-dayer our club has ever attempted, mistakes were made. We forgot to remind everyone that we were having a pig roast. Oops, I thought ya'll knew. Also, we just assumed everyone knew about the silent auction..... which it was. Sorry about that, too. There was so much to do and be concerned about, we will do better next year. Live and learn. However, all I can say is we had a blast in spite of our errors.

A real turkey shoot is planned for either September or October. It depends when we can get the turkey. Whoever wins the shoot, gets that turkey, cleaned and plucked! Can't ask for anything better than that, can you?

Well, Happy Trails until next time!

Giddyup Gal

Congratulations!

Congratulations to Bad River Marty on placing first in Gunfighter category at Buffalo Bill's Summer Range in June in Cody, Wyoming. Bad River and spouse, Katie Callahan, also placed first in the couples competition. Great shootin'.

Learning the Rules

Have you ever played a game where it seemed like everybody knew the rules but you? I think that's how a lot of new cowboy action shooters feel for their first few matches. "Don't break the 170 line, watch your muzzle, hammer down on an empty chamber, shotguns are loaded on the clock", ad infinitum, ad nauseum. Who comes up with all this stuff and where can I learn it?

The SASS handbook is a good start, but it doesn't go into enough detail to answer all the questions, so what do you do?

Simple.... Take the RO 1 course. It goes into detail about the why's, how's, what can I and what can't I questions that a lot of shooters have. If it isn't specifically covered in the course material, the instructor should be able to answer any other questions. Once you complete the course, you'll be more comfortable on the gun line and more help on your posse. As anyone who has been on a smooth working posse will tell you, it's a lot more fun and things go faster when everybody pitches in and helps.

Experienced shooters can also benefit from taking the course. No matter how much you think you know, there's always something to learn. There is no such thing as too much knowledge when it comes to the shooting sports.

Take the course.... Then the next time someone hands you the timer, asks you to watch the loading table or count misses, you won't look at them like they're teaching you Chinese algebra. You'll be part of the team!

Andy Horshurodinon

Note: Don't just stop with RO 1, once you've passed that course plan on furthering your education by enrolling in an RO 2 session.

Alias Changes

Please be advised that Capgun Kid has changed his alias to J.J. Longley. And in case you didn't catch it before, Dakota Doc is now known as Fast Eddie
